FOREWORD

The second volume of THE TIGER is presented by the Senior Class of 1949. It is not intended to represent an expression of scientific research or learned methodology. Rather, it is intended to present in a simple and informal manner a pictorial view and review of Alma Mater as an historical reminder of the best years of one's life — college days.

To say that the responsibility of planning and editing the book has been achieved without a goodly portion of hardship would be a mere modest statement, for every responsibility has its accompanying difficulties. Even so, each difficulty surmounted has its compensating rewards. In retrospection, the staff counts its rewards greater than the difficulties — a worthy yardstick by which to measure success or failure of any undertaking.

Appreciation is expressed to those many friends — business men, faculty, patrons, alumni, schoolmates, and classmates — who have lent so graciously of their support and interest toward making this book a reality.

—The Editor

D E D I C A

W. K. Payne
Dean of Faculty

To a renowned professional educator whose influence inspires young men and women to worthy achievements; to a good citizen whose integrity and foresight are of inestimable value in the leadership of his community; to a gentleman and friend, whose life is worthy of emulation, the Senior Class proudly dedicates this book.

T I O N S

JANIE L. LESTER
Dean of Women

To one whose contributions are recognized as invaluable services to the college and to society; to a woman whose influence and guidance have made her known throughout Georgia and neighboring states; to a lady of high moral standards, noble thoughts, and genuine warmth that endear her to all whom she touches, the Senior Class pays a humble tribute by this dedication.

POWELL LABORATORY SCHOOL

Powell Laboratory School serves a two-fold purpose at Georgia State College. In terms of the child, it offers educational opportunities to boys and girls who live in the college area. For them, the school seeks to offer such experiences which are conducive to good mental, social, and physical development. Every effort is made to secure the services of well-trained and professional teachers who can project a modern program of elementary education.

On the other hand, the name Laboratory School implies that the program further provides guided practice experiences for college students who major in elementary education. Under the supervision of alert teachers, these students learn the "know how" of actually putting into practice the concepts and methods which they learn in their college classes, thus coordinating the theoretical with the practical.

GEORGIA AGRICULTURE EXTENSION SERVICE

Headquarters for Agriculture Extension work with Negroes in Georgia was set up at Georgia State College in the spring of 1919. Since then, it has grown from one state worker and two full-time county workers to a force of six state workers, two office assistants, and seventy county workers. 4-H Club enrollment has gone from 413 in 1920 to over 43,000 in 1948. From a program touching 2,650 persons in 1920 to a movement reaching and influencing half of Georgia's Negro farm population in 1948. Agriculture Extension work has proved its need and practicality.

Victory Song

Down on the coast in Georgia
There stands a school so fair,
Her sons and daughters loyal
Will always do their share.
They come from north, east, south and west;
They come to Georgia State,
And there they learn to do life's tasks
And knowledge to partake.

Chorus

Georgia, Georgia, we love thee,
Love thy moss-laden oak trees.
There's no school can take her place,
Dear old Georgia State.
On to victory, Georgia, go!
On to conquer every foe.
G E O R G I A stands for Victory.
